Emergency Contacts Guide

Purpose

This guide lists the primary contacts to use for common workplace emergencies.

Emergency services

For an immediate threat to life, serious injury, fire or other emergency requiring urgent assistance, call 999.

Internal IT emergency

For a security incident, suspected phishing, lost company device, or suspected unauthorised access, contact the IT support team immediately.

Building emergency

For a building evacuation or immediate workplace safety issue, follow the site's emergency procedures and notify the local office contact.

Manager notification

Where appropriate, notify your line manager after immediate emergency actions have been taken.

Important

Do not delay contacting emergency services when there is an immediate risk to life or serious injury.
